

When you're looking for a gloves supplier...

...you can either
leave it to chance...

...or leave it to Cromwell

Well known for its comprehensive range of sacks, bags and other products, Cromwell Polythene supplies a range of blue nitrile, clear and synthetic vinyl, powder-free examination gloves, all made to our exacting quality standards and all representing great value-for-money.

Suitable for healthcare, janitorial, food and hygiene, waste management, agricultural and automotive applications – and many more besides.

goodbye to latex

Blue nitrile

These premium quality, non-sterile examination gloves are finger textured, with a light, sensitive grip, providing all of the barrier properties of latex at a significant cost saving.

Available in small, medium, large and extra-large, the gloves are tested to BS EN 455 Parts 1, 2 and 3 and have an AQL level of 1.5.

Packed 100 gloves per dispenser box,
10 boxes per outer.

Clear vinyl

With a smooth external finish, Cromwell's clear vinyl gloves fit like a second skin and are suitable for a wide range of low-risk applications. The perfect choice for those on a tight budget, but who still require a quality product.

Tested to BS EN 455 Parts 1, 2 and 3 and providing all the comfort and dexterity of more costly options.

Packed 100 gloves per dispenser box,
10 boxes per outer.

Synthetic vinyl

For those who prefer a softer, more flexible glove that offers all of the properties of more expensive products, but at a greatly reduced price. These stretch vinyl gloves are easy to don and provide a great fit.

Like other Cromwell gloves, tested to BS EN 455 and available in small, medium, large and extra-large.

Packed 100 gloves per dispenser box,
10 boxes per outer.

Expect a great response from your customers...

...then  wave goodbye
to the competition
