

The answer is clear...

From box liners to battery bags, pedal bins to pallet wrap, Cromwell Polythene is a major supplier of fit for purpose sacks, bags and ancillary products to a wide range of industry sectors.

In addition to our extensive portfolio of general purpose bags we offer a specialist range of food grade polythene bags and liners from stock or made to order.

Food grade

Our stock range of food grade bags is made from high clarity, low density polyethylene (LDPE) lay-flat tubing, converted with a bottom weld, AKA base seal.

The sturdy cardboard inner pack is wrapped in clear polythene, ensuring that contents are kept free from contamination and that any spillages can be wiped clean to maintain the highest standards of hygiene. A perforated cut-out allows for easy dispensing.

Strong, export quality cardboard cartons provide further protection for the inners, while also ensuring that they arrive at the point of use in hygienic condition.

All of our food bags are manufactured from virgin food grade polymers, with options ranging from base weld or side weld, captive flap, through to double seal for extra security, all aimed at keeping the food fresh and free from contamination.

Other options include:

- Liquid-proof seal
- Tray liners
- Box liners
- Dolav liners
- Mitred seals, which avoid ingredients becoming trapped in gusset folds
- Loose folded bags or bags perforated on the roll
- Optional double-wrapped packaging for maximum hygiene to minimise risk in food packaging areas
- Own brand labelling
